

Lite Edition

What is this Free LE Version? This version of the FSN Air Tractor AT802 "Fire Boss" is one we were working on and contains stock audio aliased to the Grand Caravan, Has no programming and has incomplete modelling and textures. This version has now been discontinued in the development stage.

Why is it free? Our modeller, not understanding the need to share his source model files with the team refused to allow anyone access to the source files essentially holding the files hostage. Seeing this as a malicious act he was then denied access to the project and removed from the team. Since his leaving he has now threatened to release the Air Tractor on his own behalf if he doesn't receive payment for the work he has done so far. After contacting several developers to help complete the project it became apparent that no one wanted to use the outdated GMAX program and we would have to start from scratch using 3D Studio Max.

Having to start from scratch means that the ex-modeller would not be getting paid and with the threat of having a free version released when our new payware version comes out, I felt the need to release this myself and let folx mess about with it while our new and fully functioning payware version is being made.

What about support? We are not supporting this unfinished product whatsoever.

Operation: Fly the heck out of it like any other plane. To drop fire retardant press the spoiler key. The fire gate will open and retardant will dump out. Press the spoiler key again to close the fire gate and reset the retardant effect.

Known Issues: Lots but the first thing you'll notice is the prop control is defaulted to 50%. Take it to 100% before take off.
